

From: <709News@BristolGroup.ca>
To: <NLIS@gov.nl.ca>
Date: 5/17/2007 8:11:34 AM
Subject: BREAST CANCER SCREENING ISSUE: Host Preamble - The provincial government knew for over half a year that more than 300 women did not receive the proper treatment for their breast cancer because of faulty testing. 08:07PM Item # 01

VOCM Radio St. John's
Date: Thu, 17 May 2007 08:14:40 -0230
X-MimeOLE: Produced By Microsoft MimeOLE V6.00.2800.1896
Message-ID: <HIPPARCHUSxpTljBOh800000046@hipparchus.bristolgroup.ca>
X-OriginalArrivalTime: 17 May 2007 10:44:40.0482 (UTC) FILETIME=[5F3B2820:01C79870]
Return-Path: 709News@BristolGroup.ca

709NEWS

Tel: 709-576-6397 OR 1-888-709-6397
Fax: 709-753-7340

Product Summary:

BREAST CANCER SCREENING ISSUE: Host Preamble - The provincial government knew for over half a year that more than 300 women did not receive the proper treatment for their breast cancer because of faulty testing.
Wednesday, May 16, 2007 08:07PM Item # 01
VOCM Radio St. John's

Standing Order: NO
BREAST CANCER SCREENING ISSUE: Host Preamble - The provincial government knew for over half a year that more than 300 women did not receive the proper treatment for their breast cancer because of faulty testing.
Wednesday, May 16, 2007 08:07PM Item # 01
VOCM Radio St. John's

LINDA SWAIN: Well the provincial government knew for over half a year that more than 300 women did not receive the proper treatment for their breast cancer because of faulty testing. And they knew for over half a year and they did not inform the public. And the question is why? Ross Wiseman, the Health minister, yesterday standing before the media indicated it was on the advice of legal counsel. But today Justice Minister Tom Osborne is denying accusations that the government was putting the concerns of pending litigation ahead of the public interest. It seems that in not telling the public for over half a year on the advice of legal counsel that that's exactly what they were doing. And today in the House of Assembly Lorraine Michael, the leader of the New Democratic Party put that question to the Health minister and said, you know, of these patients who received the false diagnosis how many died before receiving their new test results? And the minister said 176 and Lorraine Michael said I don't even know how to respond to that. I'd like to hear what you have to say about that issue. By all means do give us a call.

From: Deborah Pennell
To: Tom Osborne
Date: 5/17/2007 8:13:48 AM
Subject: Fw: Fwd: BREAST CANCER SCREENING ISSUE: Host Preamble - The provincial government knew for over half a year t

Fyi

Sent via Blackberry
Government of Newfoundland and Labrador

From: Tom Osborne
To: Susan Elliott
Date: 5/17/2007 8:25:18 AM
Subject: Fw: Fwd: BREAST CANCER SCREENING ISSUE: Host Preamble - The provincial government knew for over half a year t

Sent via Blackberry
Government of Newfoundland and Labrador