Ken,

As per our discussion, I spoke with Barry Dyer. He is indeed gathering an extensive amount of data on all cases, from each region and will be producing results on spreadsheets for each region. I thought he would. As of now, the information is on paper, but when complete, all will be computerized.

On the second point of our discussion and one that really concerns me, Barry can also send us another list of patients that had immunohistochemical tests ordered from western that we can cross reference. He thinks that that list should be all inclusive. Looks like we have done all we can do.

I'll keep you informed.

Paul
