Hi Heather,
Sorry to be a nag but do you have any more info on this stuff. One of our pathologists is also asking some of these questions as she has been talking to a pathologist at Eastern about claims and liability issues.
Thanks
Sherry

Hi Ladies,
The saga goes on for this one. I have a few questions that I thought you might be able to help me with. What if anything is happening with respect to the patients who are now deceased? What about the patients who were positive and are now negative- were any of them from Central and who would be contacting them, and what about the ones who were paneled but were not on the list you gave me Nancy to contact the physicians regarding? These are the ones we sent in information from their records for the panel but did not receive any specific responses re the decisions-some were in Nancy's list but not all of them.

I have made contact with most of the ones on the list and those from the gander area that required treatment were all notified by their doctor, as were most of the ones not requiring any change but there are a few I have not been able to confirm yet-still waiting for physicians to reply. I just left a message for Cheryl Peckford--Client Relations Coordinator- as she was doing some for the GF-W area and she is out of the office until Friday so I'll let you know where she is with it when I hear from her.

Thanks ladies.
Sherry
