Subject: DCIS patients in other regions

Just wondering if either of you can help me out here. As of Thursday of last week, we were presented with information from the NLCHI review of the database that there were 40 + patients in the province that had not been notified of there results or that there was no record of such notification. None of these are from our region, most are from central. Amongst the Central group are 7 patients with negative original results and DCIS results from Mount Sinai? Central is saying that they were never instructed as to notifying these patients and they were never notified. Heather's memory is that the pathologists were going to discuss this....pathologists from each laboratory and make a decision?? We know that within our own region, we would take each of these and first verify the DCIS status...then disclose from there. So, from what I saw last Thursday, there are possibly 7 patients who have not had this verification done on them?? Can you shed any light on this for me?? Pat
