Thanks Don. The 7th is desirable, but I understand the pressures you are under.

Robert:

Following our meeting on Monday we developed a list of tasks that need to be carried out to complete work on the Mount Sinai re-test database. Staff have been assigned to one of 16 specific tasks, and the estimated time required to complete has been assigned to each task. Following completion of this exercise we recognized that the systematic completion of these tasks must be realized without delay or we may not meet our September 7th Deadline. While is it still our expectation to deliver on the 7th I wanted you to be aware of the considerable work still ahead of us. If I feel we will not meet the deadline I will inform you immediately of this and provide you with a revised date for delivery. If you wish to discuss this further I am available at your convenience.
